It was with great joy that I received your letter recently. I wanted to acknowledge your friendship and your generous gifts with this small token of my appreciation.

I am overwhelmed with the amount you have contributed. Because you gave capriciously, I am able to defend myself before the tribunal of the College of Teachers.

I am very happy in my new job as Coordinator of Special Education at St. Ann's Academy in Kamloops, a town about four hours drive from Vancouver. It is a real joy to work in a Christian school, which starts every day with prayer and Bible readings. I am also active with two church choirs.

I will let you know when my hearing date will be set. Your prayers, in the meantime, would be welcome.

God bless you as you serve him
faithfully

Chris Kempling
